Designer's Notes

Marble has been prominent in interiors for centuries, with the Romans and Greeks choosing pure white marble for its unique pattern and aesthetic. However, our new Surface collection evolves this marble trend, making it suitable for contemporary living spaces. In previous years, this ancient building material has been typically used in kitchens, giving a clean, yet classic, look to the heart of the home. The stone's mineralised finish has now been transported from kitchens and into interiors across various marble accessories; from soft furnishings to photo frames, vases and trinkets.

Colour Trends

The Woodrose and Teal colourways take on the Emerald and Dusky Pink colour combination. Instead of using the muted pink and aquamarine colours in plain Velour fabrics alone, the unique textures of the Surface collection keep the trend looking contemporary.

Colour Trends

Gilt enhances the grey tones of the natural stone and pairs it with shades of ochre, giving it an updated edge. Whereas Henna offers a darker, spicier take on Pantone's Colour of the Year, Living Coral.
